The Bismarck Plant Materials Center is one of a network of 26 centers nationwide dedicated to providing vegetative solutions to conservation problems. The Plant Materials program has been providing conservation plant materials and technology for 70 years.

The Plant Materials Center serves a wide variety of land users from the high plains and prairies of North Dakota and South Dakota to the corn belt and forests of Minnesota. The PMC is devoted to promoting and providing plant materials for conservation, including national conservation programs. Outreach activities include distribution of plants which are part of the heritage of the Plains and Woodland Indians, and educational demonstration plantings.

TOURS AND TRAINING AVAILABLE

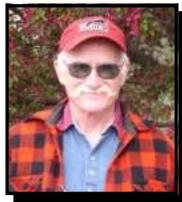

Tours and training for the general public or special interest groups are available upon request. Visitors are always welcome. The center is open Monday through Friday 8:00 AM - 4:30 PM. Please call the PMC to ensure that a staff member will be available. The PMC is co-located with Lincoln-Oakes Nurseries south of Bismarck across from the Bismarck City Airport and the United Tribes Technical College.
